[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]

Paris, November 26.—"I have got the old age habit and the nursing habit," said the rich widow of R. Felton Lowry, of Philadelphia, by way of explaining why she has just become engaged to a man who has passed the span of three-score and ten years allotted by the Scriptures.

Mrs. Lowry married R. Felton Lowry when he was seventy. One year later he died, leaving her a large fortune. A brother of the same venerable man about town left $1,000,000 to the Qualter City a few years ago. Mrs. Lowry lives in a pleasant villa at Alfort Villo, a little town six miles down the Seine, which obtained unenviable notoriety during the floods last year. She feels she has conscientiously mourned her dead husband, and is now about to lay aside her widow's weeds in favor of a retired army officer named Colonel Eugene Kahn. She was attracted to him because of his age, which was exactly that of her first husband. She says gene Kahn. She was attracted to him because of his age, which was exactly that of her first husband. She says proudly that she has nursed an aged husband and nursed an aged mother, and now she expects to have to nurse a second aged husband. So well does Mrs. Lowry like the prospect of nursing the venerable colonel that in the marriage contract she promises to pay him an annuity. Mrs. Lowry is just half the age of her prospective husband.

A Legal Hide and Seek.

Frank Lacroix Gardner, of Paris, and Lady Meux, of London, are having the time of their lives playing a sort of legal hide and seek. After a chase along legal highways and byways, Lady Meux seems to have finally cornered the wealthy Paris-American, and a referee will give his decision in the case in three days.

When Frank L. Gardner was engaged in high finance in London he decided to have a country house. Hence he hired a beaut'ful mansion near London known as White Webbs, which is the property of Lady Meux. Toward the close of his occupancy Mr. Gardner became dissatisfied with the high rent and decided not to may it high rent and decided not to pay it

CATARRH DESTROYED WIFE-MURDERER MY APPETITE. REFUSED MERCY

PERUNA rarely fails to restore the appetite. Immediately upon beginning the use of Peruna patients begin to cat and digest. This is the universal testimony, coming from all parts of the civilized world.

Catarrh is a very frequent cause of loss of appetite and disturbed digestion.

The beneficial influence of Peruna on catarrh completely restores the appetite in such cases.

To prod the digestive organs with medicines that are merely stimulants is a poor way to remedy such cases.

"I am now cured and cheerful in spirits, all through the agency of Peruna, which has cured meeffectually and restored my appetite.

"My only regret is that I did not use Peruna sooner and I would have avoided all my previous suffering and misery." -Mr. Joseph H. Conlan.

He asked the Governor for commutation of the sentence to imprisonment for life on the ground that Smith had been drinking so heavily that he was not fully responsible, and that certainly the case showed no premeditation. In view of the threat of the previous night, the Governor thinks there was premeditation, and the man will die.

CANVASS VOTES

State Board Meets To-Morrow for Offi-elal Count. At 10 o'clock to-morrow the Board of State Canvassers will meet in the office of the Secretary of the Common-wealth and canvass the abstracts of wealth and canvass the abstracts of the votes cast in the recent election as sent in by the county and city election commissioners. The returns for members of Congress will be taken up by districts and tabulated, show ag the vote for every candidate of all parties.

the vote for every candidate of all parties.

Following the canvass, the Secretary of the Commonwealth will issue certificates of election to the successful man in each district, to be presented to the clerk of the House of Representatives. In the case of the proposed amendments to the Constitution, the board will make a complete count of the State, using the votes of all counties and cities. The vote for and against each amendment will be certified to the Governor, and he will within a reasonable time issue a proclamation giving the result officially to the publis. This will have the effect of making the amendment regarding the election of county treasurers and commissioners a part of the Constitution. The other three are defeated.

The Board of State Canvassers is composed as follows: Governor Mann, Secretary of the Commonwealth B. O. James, Auditor of Public Accounts Morton Myre, State Treasurer Asher W. Harman and Attorney-General Camuel W. Williams. Any three of these may act.

State Executives Meet This Week at Frankfort and Louisville.
Governor Mann and Mrs. Mann win leave the city to-night to attend the annual meeting of the Council of Goernors, to be held at Frankfort, Ky. It is probably that two days of the session will be at Louisville, this being indi-vated in a letter received from Gov-ernor Augustus E. Willson, of Ken-tucky.

As a result of the recent elections, some of these Governors will be executives no longer after the beginning of

Reports presented during the past

Reports presented during the past week by Commissioner of Agriculture Koiner to the Conference of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture, held at Atianta, caused the members of that body to open their eyes. Never before had they heard of such ylelds of applies, nor had they ever heard of such crops of alfalfa. They had nothing to produce to compare with the showing made in Virginia.

The North Carolina commissioner had a good deal to say about sending money out of the Southern States for commodities which could be raised at home. He said a few things about raising $50,000,000 worth of cotton and sending $55,000,000 of cash out of the South to buy pork and feed. The boil-weevil, it appeared, is steadily marching east, and may make his appearance in Georgia during the coming year. Mr. Koiner thinks he may not be altogether an unmixed evil since sometimes he forces farmers to turn their attention to more lucrative turn their attention to more lucrative Spent Nothing.

It costs less money to run for Congress in the Richmond district as a Socialist-Laborite than as a plain Socialist. The candidate of the latter party in the late election—D. D. Harrison—blew in S cents, while Thomas A. Hollins, the Socialist-Labor man, has just filed a stratement which starts that he got through without expending a copper.

An order was issued yesterday by Adjutant-General W. W. Sale extend-ing the time for the election of a sec-ond lieutenant for Company C. First Virginia Infantry, for sixty days from

The loss will fall entirely on the contractors, Burton & Driscoil, except the delay. The sewer is already far behind the contract time. In fact, the time limit had almost expired before any work was begun on the great sewer, which is to drain that part of Lee District west of the Boulevard. Before construction was under way the firm, which had been the lowest bidder, dissolved, and work is being continued by the Burton Company. The Engineer's office, however, has not reloased Mr. Driscoil from his part in the contract, and the bond stands in the parthership name.

The West Street sewer is recognized as an exceedingly diffcult piece of construction because of the unusually flat territory through which it runs. There is very little fall, and unless the grading is exact and the trenches cut with great care, the drain-
